DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-3, 6, 7, 9-14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of Bundschuch et al. (3,502,279).

With regards to claims 1, 6, 7, 9, 10 and 16, Applicant, at pages 1 and 2 of the specification to be known as AAPA, discloses mandrels of varying diameters to accommodate changes in diameter of components fabricated thereon. AAPA does not disclose a core mandrel with a plurality of adapter sleeves to provide mandrels of varying outside diameters. However Bundschuch et al. teaches a core mandrel 8 with a plurality of adapter sleeves 36 to provide mandrels with varying diameters (col. 1, lines 55-64 and col.2, lines 27-28 and 52-53), with interlocking mechanism in the form of pin 38 (col. 2, lines 52-67). Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, to have substituted the plurality of mandrels with varying outside diameters of AAPA with a core mandrel and a plurality of adapter sleeves, in light of the teachings of Bundschuch et al., in order to economically provide mandrels of varying outside diameters. Applicant should note that the adapter sleeves of Bundschuch et al. have an inside diameter sized to engage the core mandrel outside diameter across an entire width of the adapter sleeve. Regarding the recitation of the sleeves material and their thermal expansion rate as compared to the core mandrel, Applicant should note that it is within the general knowledge of one of ordinary skill in the art to have used steel adapter sleeves. Furthermore it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416. See also Ballas Liquidating Co. v. Allied industries of Kansas, Inc. (DC Kans) 205 USPQ 331.

For claims 2, 3 and 11-14, Applicant should note that it is within the general knowledge of one of ordinary skill in the art to provide appropriate and effective interlocking mechanism between the core mandrel and the adapter sleeves.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3, 6, 7, 9-14 and 16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3726

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
